

Health Care Professionals: Join the community

Health Professions
Autism Network

Advancing health care quality for people on the autism spectrum

The Health Professions Autism Network is a multidisciplinary Community of Practice for core health care providers in all settings across the lifespan. Its objective is to facilitate networking, education, and advocacy on caring for autistic individuals and families.

Participation in the community is voluntary and is open to all health care providers. Participants may be as involved as they choose to be.

The goal of the community is to improve access to quality health care to decrease health disparities in the autistic community.

To learn more and join this forward-thinking community of health care providers, visit the Health Professions Autism Network website.
